Readings – Sun. 29th March: The First Reading - The promise of new life is accompanied by the promise that the people of God will be settled on their own soil. God's blessings are not vague or theoretical: he wants us to live a contented, meaningful life in our concrete circumstances.

The Second Reading: Fundamentally, to be 'interested only in unspiritual things' means to live as though God did not exist. It is a practical form of atheism, which we must all guard against.

The Gospel: John 11:1-45: Jesus loved Martha, Mary and Lazarus, but when he heard the news of Lazarus' illness, he stayed where he was for two more days. Jesus' wisdom – and his itinerary – transcend even the most urgent and pressing of human appeals, and yet his love finally embraces every situation.
